Information For Ordering

PACKING: Since all of our units are packed in specially designed cartons, suitable for carrying the glassware safely to destination, all orders should specify standard package quantities.

SHIPPING
INSTRUCTIONS Please specify on all orders whether shipments are to be made via FREIGHT, TRUCK or EXPRESS. We will use our judgment as to the best routing for orders which do not specify shipping instructions.

CLAIMS: The various transportation companies, when accepting shipments from us, give us a signed receipt as having received the merchandise from us "in good order." When this has been done, our responsibility ends and the transportation company then assumes full responsibility for the shipment. Should any part of a shipment therefore, reach you in a damaged condition or with any part of the original shipment missing, the transportation company expects you to file a claim for the damaged or missing articles. Where damage is not discovered until after the cartons have been opened, a claim should be filed with the transportation company for "Concealed Damage." Our Traffic Department will gladly assist you in the filing of claims but we cannot accept responsibility or guarantee collection.
